

Personal statement

- I am currently studying at faculty of computer science and artificial intelligence at benha university, I am in The third level(CS department) with total GPA until now = 3.
- I learned some computer science and programming languages like c++ , java , kotlin , also learned data structures and algorithms , some concepts of database and software engineering.
- in my third level , I study about operating system , software engineering , database and artificial intelligence ,In addition to the projects that I will be doing at the end of the level.
- I start my competitive programming journey in the beginnnging of this year 2020 and I practice continously and keep learning about some advanced data structures , algorithms and techniques.
- I always compete in codeforces contests and atcoder also and others websites like leetcode , codechef and hackerearth and also after the contests I make upsolving of problems that I could not able to solve during the contest .
- I make some sample projects during my studying in the faculty especialy my library mangement system project , I used java , mysql and some gui in this project.

- my future plans are keeping going on competitive programming and learning more and more advanced algorithms and techniques , also I am interested in learning some advanced computer science.

- I am working hard , patient and interested in team work and making great projects, I will keep going in studying to be great software engineer.